Hi. My name is Joe, the Plastic Bottle. Sometimes, I thought that I was the best plastic bottle in the world but, in reality I'm just one of the millions of plastic bottles which were born in this factory and many other factories in the world.

I'm also a real globetrotter. I've traveled at least 8000 kilometers to arrive in Europe.

Then, my belly was filled with mysterious chemicals.*

One day, I was emptied into a bucket.

After that, I found myself in a cart in the company of a dozen other cleaning products.

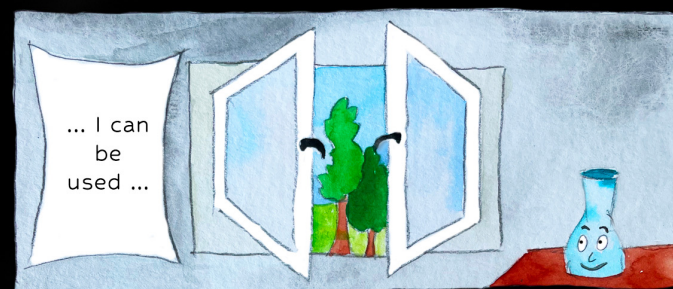

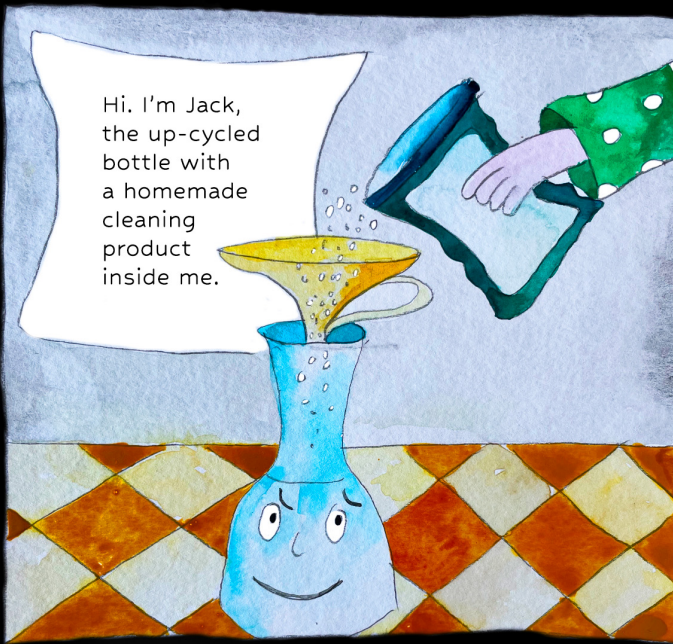

Then I was thrown in a bin.

2300
Finally, I was not recycled. Still, I can consider myself lucky that I've spent all these years in the company of my fellow bottles, in the deep water.

*Composition of bleach.

It's so nice to ride a bike,
but the bike paths are too narrow.

Luckily I only have a small scratch!

His arm is broken!

You are not allowed to do anything for 4 weeks until your arm has healed, then you come back to me.

How can I keep my apartment clean with a broken arm?

I want to apologize for the accident

After washing up I will cook you vegetarian dolma. You've probably never eaten a dolma like this before!

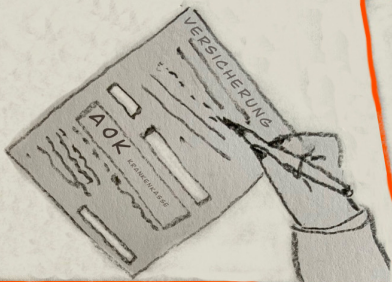

Tastes almost better than my mother's.

My friend is new in this country. He doesn't speak the language well yet. I help him with the doctor's and other tasks.

Let's fill out the insurance forms first. We must work to ensure that there are better bike lanes in the city.

"What's this?
Does this job really exist?"

"It's quite weird
the relationship with pets here..."

"But what if I'd try it?
I need a small job anyway."

"Hi. Are you here for the dog sitting?"

"Here she is, the cutest dog in the world. Her name is Liza."

"Nice to meet you Liza. I'm Yulia.
I will look after you
this afternoon."

"My God. It won't be that easy.
Apparently we have to run."

"I haven't exercised for years..."

"Finally, it's not that bad to move a little bit."

"Smells... It must be something special for her."

"What a sophisticated nose!"

"Let's give it a try!
Mmmmm, this smell of green is quite comforting."

"Rubbish... I've never realized that rubbish is everywhere."

"How can it smell for the dog?"

"They must be much more sensitive to odors than we humans are."

"Look, Liza, a fellow dog is coming."

Yulia: "Hi. What a cute dog. Is it a she-dog or a he-dog?"

"It's a she-dog, her name is Zazi and mine is Maria. Nice to meet you both."

Yulia: "She is Liza and this is our first walk together..."

"... and I'm just discovering a completely new universe thanks to her."

Maria: "You really seem to appreciate each other."

Zazi: "Yeah... It seems so..."

"...this Liza dog must be right. This young lady looks like someone who needs affection..."

"... so here you are!"
